BECOME A VOLUNTEER

Bird Protection Quebec operates almost exclusively thanks to the dedication of volunteers. There are many ways you can participate and help us accomplish our mission to protect birds and bird habitat through conservation, observation and education.

One way would be to join one of our standing committees. These committees are active throughout the year and keep our activities running smoothly:

- Conservation
 - Grants
 - Property acquisition
 - Sanctuaries
 - Education
 - Monthly meetings
 - Field trips
 - Communications
 - Finance
 - Membership services
 - Archives
 - Publicity & Outreach
- Working group: Equity, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI)

Always on the lookout for new ideas and ready to open the door to new recruits, these committees would welcome you with open arms! The time commitment required to sit on a committee or working group varies and joining will depend on the level of involvement you wish to provide. (Note: you must be a member of BPQ in good standing to sit on a committee or working group.)

☐ I would be interested in joining a committee / working group involved in .
☐ or, wherever volunteers are most needed.

If you prefer, you can offer to volunteer only on an occasional ad hoc basis (Members and non-members are welcome!) We often need help for specific projects (for example, trail clearing, nest box cleaning, etc.) or for tasks requiring specialized skills (e.g., assistance in legal or financial matters, organizing events, etc.). Let us know which activities are of interest to you:
